Dutchess County
Where History Becomes Recreation
History of Dutchess County

- In the 19\textsuperscript{th} Century, the Industrial revolution lead to a boost in the economy.
- This allowed time for more recreational activities.
All the recreational sites have websites to further promote their activities, which include:

- Facebook and Twitter links allow people to follow along through popular social media.
- Pictures help draw people in and event schedules assist in planning visits.

Here are links to the actual websites:

- http://www.oldrhinebeck.org/
- http://www.hydeparkrollermagic.com/

How can the sites further their tourism strategies?

- Ads in magazines
- Articles in newspapers
- Billboards

Dutchess County has a magazine to advertise all the recreational activities it has to offer

WHY WALK THE WALKWAY?

- At 212 feet high and 1.28 miles long, the scenic Walkway Over the Hudson is the longest elevated pedestrian bridge in the world, and an experience everyone should enjoy!

- Runners, bikers, pedestrians and families alike who are looking to get their exercise can also take in the beautiful view!
Walkway over the Hudson

Procedure

- Students will be split into groups
- Each group will be given three pictures that will match up with the “factoid” panels
- Under each picture there will be a paragraph with blank spaces to fill in
- The students will find the panels that resemble their pictures and fill in the blanks in the paragraph, by reading the historical facts on the panels
- Once paragraphs are filled in students will take group photo next to panel
- Students will draw a simple picture of their interpretation of the bridge including a simple scenic view

Flowing Fives on walking bridge
The Walkway over the Hudson is a public walking bridge. This bridge is the longest and most elevated pedestrian bridge in the world.

The bridge is 212 feet tall and 1.28 miles long. This park is maintained by NYS Park-Taconic Region.

Visitors may walk, roller skate, ride bikes, jog, and walk their dogs on a leash. Visitors may also bird watch, spot trains, observe river traffic, have a self-guided tour and picnic while being on the bridge.

Blue Sky Balloons

- Blue Sky Balloons is located in Poughkeepsie.
- They have been up and running for thirty-six years, opening in 1976.
- Bill Hughes, a former Navy Pilot, has been running it himself for the past twenty-five years.
- A ride is $225 a person and they don’t take flight in the winter due to weather conditions.
The Blue Sky Balloons is a scenic hot air balloon ride tourist place located in the Hudson River Valley for over 36 years with perfect safety records. This tourist site is a great family outdoor adventure.

Bill Hughes is the Balloonmeister (person who is responsible for all operational aspects of the balloon events). Hughes also makes the decisions of whether or not its safe flying conditions on each launch based on the weather conditions and his knowledge of the flying area and briefs the pilots accordingly.

Several balloons festivals took place such as the Adirondack Balloon Festival for the past 25 years.

These flights are scheduled in the morning just after sunrise and in the evening just before sunset.

There are special flights available like birthday celebrations, anniversaries or special occasions like engagement flights. You may also ask for private flights.

“Give the adventure gift of a lifetime to someone you love...or to yourself!”
Blue Sky Balloon Procedure

- The class will take a class trip to Blue Sky Balloons
- In groups, students will fill out a worksheet that has a picture of a specific site they will view from the hot air balloon, with spaces underneath the picture so each member in the group can write a sentence about what they noticed.
- They will learn about the history of the hot air balloons and how they work from the pilot.
- Go for a ride in a Blue Sky hot air balloon and listen to the pilot’s facts about the five major sites.
- Write five sentences when they view their individual sites.
- Look at a map & place their picture on the map and read aloud their sentences.
- Make their own air balloons with the resources provided.

BLUE SKY BALLOONS
Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome

- a museum of aviation from year’s past - antique planes, engines, and memorabilia - brought to life in the present day

- airshows done to show the public about the “golden years” of aviation.

- The weekend air shows are done from mid-June through October, weather permitting.
Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome has air shows on weekends from mid-June through mid-October when weather permits. This is great entertainment for all ages.

On these weekends the Aerodrome tunes back the hands of time and relieves back to the years of early aviation.

On Saturday show History of Flight showing Pioneer, WWI, and Lindbergh era aircrafts flying in the sky. When winds are calm they also fly their oldest aircraft which was built in 1909 called Bleriot.

On Sunday they feature WWI dogfight plus brainstorming aircrafts. Pre-show activities for the visitors include a parade where show early aviation engines, aeroplanes, motorcycles and automobiles from 1900-35.

Also have early aviation brainstorm rides where experience yourself the thrill of early aviation when looking at the scenic views of the Hudson Valley from below in an open cockpit 1929 new standard biplane.
