As the academic arm of the Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area, the Hudson River Valley Institute, HRVI, is the center for the study and promotion of the region. Our goal is to be the central hub of information about the Hudson River Valley's history, culture, economy, and environment; we do this through lectures, seminars, teachers' institutes, our Web site www.hudsonrivervalley.org, and our new regional journal - The Hudson River Valley Review. Our digital library and online portal also help us to provide educational resources on the Hudson River Valley to teachers and students as well as heritage tourists. For more information about the Hudson River Valley Institute, contact Marist College at (845) 575-3052 or write to hrevi@marist.edu.
