This way to fun!

A photograph of the Olana State Historic Site, showing the large stone building with a tower, surrounded by lush green trees and a clear blue sky.

Olana State Historic Site

Olana was the 19th century home, studio and designed landscape of Hudson River School artist Frederic Edwin Church (1826-1900), his wife Isabel and their four children.

Be sure to check out everything we have to offer!

- Guided house tours
- Rotating exhibits in the Evelyn & Maurice Sharp Gallery
- Programs and special events for all ages
- Visitor Center offers an exhibit, film, interactive touch screen computers and museum shop
- Family activities are available regularly at the Wagon House Education Center

Fun Fact! The name "Olana" was created by Isabel and is a reference to a Persian fortress which the house resembles!

The main house on the Olana site was planned carefully by Church and Calvert Vaux to resemble a "unique mixture of Victorian architectural elements and Middle-Eastern decorative motifs"

Itinerary for Olana State Historic Site

Time: 3.5 hours

Features: Art Museum, House Tour and Views of the Hudson River Valley

-Begin at 11 am: Olana State Historic Site has various exhibits for the whole family to enjoy. At this site you will go on tour of the house, followed by a trip to the Visitors Center and Museum, and finish the day off with a picnic outside the house and enjoy the beautiful views, once viewed by Frederic Church.

- Meet in the main floor/ studio wing of the house. From here you will get to go on a tour of the house and view some of the paintings made by Church himself. This tour will last between 45-60 minutes.

- After the tour, you can visit the Museum/Visitors Center. Here you can find souvenirs based off of Church's art and view films about him to learn about his life. You will spend 45 minutes here.

- Once you have finished your browsing in the Visitors Center, you can head outside the home for a picnic lunch. The area outside the home is free to the public. During your lunch you will get to view the Hudson River Valley just like Frederic Church did when he lived here.

Lesson for Olana State Historic Site

~Students will have learned previously about the Hudson River School painter, Frederic Church.

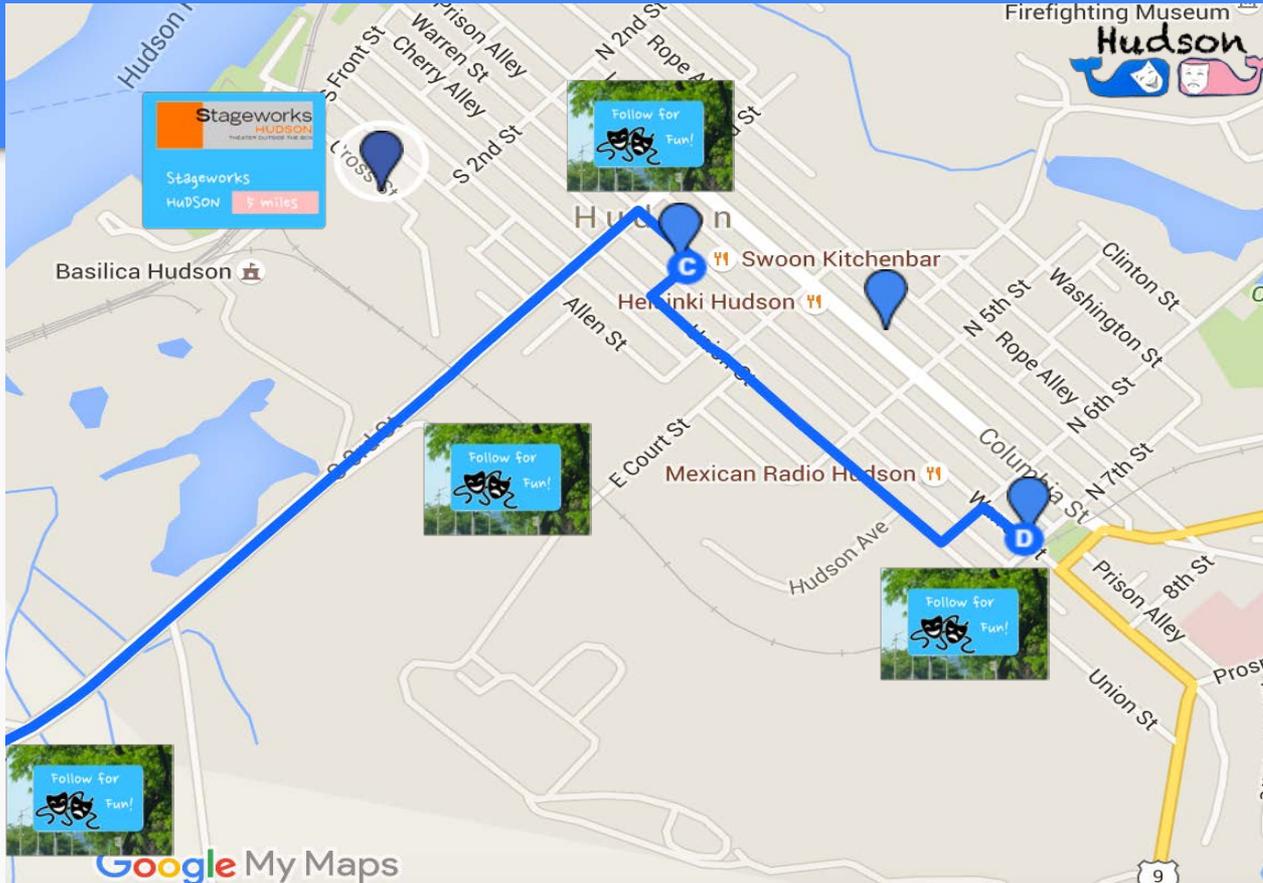

~Students will explore the Visitor Center which offers a film and an illustrated panel display about the life of Frederic Church and the history of Olana.

~Students will be given a worksheet based on the information from the Visitor Center and work in groups to complete. Team that gets most answers correct will receive a small prize. Discuss answers as a class once each group has finished.

Now Playing:
Fun up Ahead

A graphic callout for a movie theater. It features a blue background with a white border. At the top, there are icons for a film reel, a red cup of popcorn, and a pair of red 3D glasses. Below the icons, the text "Now Playing:" is written in a white, handwritten-style font, followed by "Fun up Ahead" in a larger, white, handwritten-style font. The background of the graphic shows a blurred outdoor scene with green trees.

Time and Space Limited

Linda Mussmann founded TSL in 1973 in New York City and Claudia Bruce joined as co-director in 1976

When Claudia and Linda first walked into what would become the new TSL building on Columbia Street, they knew it was a dream come true – finding an art space that could be ever evolving

TSL is fun for the whole family!
We offer:

- Live Broadcasts of Met Operas, the National Theater of London's NT Live, and the Bolshoi Ballet
- Movies
- Art Exhibitions
- Youth Programs

In 1991, TSL refused a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts that mandated an anti-obscenity pledge and relocated to Hudson, NY.

Fun Fact: Members and visitors used to have to bring their own cushions to soften the hard wooden pews in the theatres!
